

RESPONSIBLE INVESTING in Natural Resources

7th – 8th October 2019

The Geological Society of London, Burlington House

What is responsible investing, how should we measure it and how can we shape its future? These are some of the questions that investors, operators, policy makers and NGOs will challenge and answer during this two day conference.

Responsible investment is currently driven primarily by the volume of carbon an organisation releases to the environment. This blanket approach can have unintended consequences for the extractives sectors and its customers. Responsible investment should encompass a broader and more balanced set of requirements, as suggested by the Sustainable Development Goals, thereby ensuring that those organisations who truly strive to operate in a more sustainable manner are actively supported by responsible investors.

If you are an investor, natural resources company such as mining or oil & gas, policy maker, industry body, regulator, NGO, insurer, analyst or interested party seeking to shape the future of responsible investment in the natural resources sector, we hope to see you at the conference.
